Projected score

Other R2 results:

Yorkshire had the top score this round - an outstanding 1967. The Hants/Aberdeen match was a bit of a damp squib. Hants had the second top score of 1961 but Aberdeen were a shooter short and only had 1859 so could not have won anyway.

Several counties did not have a full complement: Warwick were one short and beat Kent who were three shooters short..

Forth & Clyde (1960) and Caithness (1958) are the only Scottish counties through to the next round, and we wish them well.

Other R1 results:

Aberdeenshire had the top score in this round, beating Berks by 1957 to a No Return. Bit of a waste. Caithness were next with 1956. The perennial winners of this comp, Hampshire, had a bye.

We sneaked through courtesy of the opposition being a man short (or having a card disqualified), so all four Scottish counties qualified for the round 2 as Forth & Clyde also sneaked through with only 19 counting cards against Ulster Counties, who only had 18.

Our opponents in R2 are Devon, who scored 1954, so we will have to up our game if we want to progress. Aberdeen have drawn Hampshire in what should be a real top-of-the-table clash.
